

AG132 : PRINCIPLES OF CROP AND ANIMAL SCIENCE PRODUCTION I

A systems approach to animal and crop production. Focuses on activities, which occur in the production cycle during the fall of the year. Topics include silage production, poultry production, sheep breeding, equipment maintenance, corn and soybean harvesting, and fall tillage techniques. Emphasis is given to appropriate stewardship of natural resources.

Credits 4

Type

Laboratory